THE SAINT JAMES PRESBYTERIAN MONTHLY NEWSLETTER

The Mystery of Inclusion

Midsummer's Greetings!

This Summer, my son Asher has played hard! Sleepovers with cousins and friends. Swimming in a backyard pool. Walks around Bellingham, bike rides up and down the Spokane and Wenatchee river-fronts, hiking in the Chuckanut Mountains, s'mores by the campfire. It is a good time of year to be a 3-year-old.

As he grows older, I'm watching his play begin to change and develop. One thing he is learning about is how to include and be included by others. Oftentimes, he's the youngest child in the group. He's learning how to ask for help, learning how to get involved with others, and slowly, learning how to include others in his own playful ideas. I'm fascinated as I watch him test this out in how he uses his imagination to play outdoors, run with friends, and share with others.

Isn't it amazing how we experience a powerful change in ourselves when we feel included by others? We feel like we can open up, like we can breathe and allow ourselves to be seen and known and offer a bit more of ourselves in generosity when we feel welcomed. And when we share and include each other, we benefit from the breadth of one another's personalities, gifts, resources, and imaginations.

This August, we're going to be looking at what theologian Leonardo Boff describes as "a mystery of inclusion" — The Trinity. God, Jesus, Holy Spirit — the mystery of God as Three-In-One. Through much of August, we will explore this concept and how each person of the Trinity reveals to us a unique and yet interrelated part of God's character. Boff describes it as a mystery because deep at the heart of the Trinity, in the interrelated parts of God's character, there is sacramental, holy love.

In order to practice this mystery of inclusion ourselves, we will welcome two different voices to preach in our worship at St. James. The first two weeks of August, we will hear Pastor Doug Bunnell from First Presbyterian Church of Bellingham and Pastor Greg Ellis from Birchwood Presbyterian Church come share with our community about the Holy Spirit and the Creator God, respectively. Pastor Seth will visit their churches on August 5 and 12, preaching on Jesus Christ, the second person of the Trinity. The hope with this "pulpit swap" is that we might illustrate the many-ness of God by hearing from different voices — and yet — at the same time, gain a sense of the inclusive, welcoming, interconnected nature of God as we see three partners in pastoral ministry share and tell the story as one cohesive preaching unit.

What an opportunity — to share and include other voices that may seem different from ours, unfamiliar to us? As we move through this series and through the month of August, it is my hope that we recognize the swift and joyous current of God's presence moving through our 3 church communities, and interconnected picture of God's triune nature, manifested in God's Kingdom on earth, here in Bellingham.

The Common English Version of the opening words of Psalm 133 says this: "It is truly wonderful when the people of God live together in peace." How true and how wonderful indeed!

Grace and peace,

Pastor Seth

Thank you for allowing us to share about our ministries with your PW group. It was wonderful to meet you and get to know your love for God's plan in the world. Tyler and Rochelle Holm are serving in Mzuzu, Malawi (Africa), at the invitation of the Church of Central African Presbyterian (CCAP), Synod of Livingstonia and PC (USA), PC (USA) Presbyterian World Mission and Mzuzu University. CCAP is an international church partner of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.). Tyler teaches theology at the University of Livingstonia, one of the synod's institutions. The Faculty of Theology on the Ekwendeni campus is training future pastors and church leaders for the Church of Central Africa Presbyterian. Rochelle works directly for Mzuzu University and manages the Water and Sanitation Centres, which are committed to increasing the availability and sustainable of clean water and improved sanitation in northern Malawi and beyond. The next FAMILY PROMISE WEEK at Sacred Heart will be September 9-16. AFP training event and a "Protecting God's Children" training will be announced soon.

New Update from CherYsh America Foundation

CherYsh America Foundation has recently concluded its crowdfunding campaign, to raise funding to support their efforts to bring modern electricity systems to improve health, education, and home industries at the Saangalo home and Nsenge village community. This project will have two phases:

1. Bring modern electric and related data systems
2. Sustainable programs in health, education and home-based industries.

In addition, we have made good progress during our recent visit to Uganda. A team comprised of CherYsh and Johnson & Johnson visited Kampala and Jinja to meet with partners in engineering, education, university research, government, and NGOs. These meetings may aid in the installation of a solar power system in the village, bringing electricity and water power to Sangallo homes and neighboring areas.

CherYsh America Foundation will be working to obtain legal status in Uganda to operate and recruit a small, talented team from the Makerere

University. During this time, design of the solar power and computer systems will take place, as well as ensuring all the governance issues are in order.
